Karta Case Accidentally Shot

What came as a decided shock to his folks and to the citizens of Wrangell was the news of the death of Karta Case, who in some mysterious manner accidentally shot himself Wednesday morning about eleven o'clock while hunting on Brush Island.

Karta Case, Wm. Fletcher and Fred Barthold left Monday for a few days hunt on Brush Island. Wednesday morning Case and Fletcher went up in the woods to hunt, traveling a short distance apart. About eleven o'clock Mr. Fletcher heard a shot and thinking Mr. Case had shot a deer went over to where he was and made the terrible discovery of the accident. Mr. Fletcher was only a few minutes in arriving at the side of the deceased but as he arrived Mr. Case breathed his last. The fatal shot had entered his body and from appearance has penetrated the heart. Both hands are shot thru and it is believed that he was standing with his hands over the muzzle of the gun and in some manner it was discharged.

Karta Case was the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Case of this city. was born at Karta Bay on the Chickaman River in 1889, and has been a resident of Wrangell for many years.

The deceased is well known here and has many friends all of whom unite in giving their heart felt sympathy to the bereaved family in their hour of sorrow.

The crack liner Alameda of the Alaska Steamship Company arrived in port at 1:45 A. M. last Tuesday having covered the distance from Seattle to Wrangell in just forty eight hours. This is the fastest trip ever made by any vessel plying the inside passage to Alaska.

The Alameda will make her last call at Wrangell on her south-bound trip about Nov. 5th, as all the Western Alaska boats of the Alaska Steamship Company will be withdrawn from making Wrangell a port of call during the winter months. We regret that the business offered does not justify the continuing of this splendid service during the winter months.

Last Thursday afternoon a party of mighty hunters composed of C. M. Coulter, Harry Gartley, Louis Olsen, Peter Jensen and cable officer McNerney left on the good ship Clatswa for a few days on the flats in search of the feathered beauties that haunt that locality. The party returned last Sunday by way of Blind Slough and the only thing missing from the whole trip was the absence of ducks when the party got back to town.

The river boat Winifred arrived down from Telegraph last Sunday with fifteen passengers for this place. Among the passengers are

Notice of Election

To the electors of the town of Wrangell, Division No. one, Territory of Alaska:

Notice is hereby given that pursuant to an Act of Congress, entitled "An Act Providing for the Election of a Delegate to the House of Representatives from the Territory of Alaska," and an act entitled "An Act to Create a Legislative Assembly in the Territory of Alaska, to Confer Legislative Power Thereon and for Other Purposes," a general election for the purpose of electing a Delegate to the House of Representatives from the Territory of Alaska for the full term of the 64 Congress, and for the election of one (1) Senator and four (4) Representatives to the Alaska Legislative Assembly, as provided in the said acts, will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 3, 1914 between the hours of 8 o'clock A. M. and 7 o'clock P. M. of said day.

The Common Council of Wrangell, Alaska having heretofore, by ordinance, duly designated the voting precincts of said town and the polling places in each thereof, the electors are hereby notified:

That all duly qualified voters residing within the boundaries of voting precinct No. 1 of said town of Wrangell which are as follows: the incorporated limits of the town of Wrangell will vote at City Hall, the same being the duly designated polling place in and for precinct No. 1 town of Wrangell Alaska.

Dated this 29th day of September 1914.

(Signed)
The Common Council of the Town of Wrangell, Alaska
By Paul F. Stanhope, Clerk.

Oils Drop At Local Agency

The local agency of the Standard Oil Company issued a notice the first of the week to the effect that gasoline and naphtha was each reduced one cent per gallon. The oil is now selling at gasoline $2.20 per case, and naphtha $2.10 per case and in drums at gasoline 15-1-2 and naphtha at 14-1-2. This is the cheapest that this oil has ever sold at in Alaska and several of the local fishermen are taking advantage of the opportunity and laying several drums up for use later for fear of a raise in price.

As the result of a fall here received some week or ten days ago at Wrangell, C. F. Reynolds, one of the best-known miners and prospectors of the West Coast, died at Sulzer Wednesday morning at six o'clock, and his body was brought over for interment by his partner W. T. Wright on last night's mail boat. Deceased had been interested in several of the larger mining deals on Hetta Inlet, having been engaged with Mr. Wright in opening up and developing a gold property at Nucwa at the time of his death. He was a member of the Masonic fraternity, and will be buried tomorrow afternoon at two thirty under the auspices of the local Masonic lodge.—Ketchikan Miner.

Dr. Dawes Leaving For Juneau

It is with a feeling of regret that we make the announcement of this week of the retirement of Dr. L. P. Dawes from the medical field of Wrangell. Dr. Dawes having decided to move to Juneau to take up the practice of his profession in that city. Dr. Dawes has been in practice in Wrangell for about five years and had built up his practice to the full extent and his move to Juneau is for the reason of a larger and wider practice which is offered in the Capital city. During his stay in Wrangell Dr. Dawes has made many fine long friends all of whom will feel the loss when Dr. Dawes leaves.

Dr. Dawes expects to leave for Juneau in the course of a week and after getting located there will leave for an extended trip to the east where he will take post graduate work for a short time before returning for good. While on the East Dr. Dawes will make it a point to pick out a successor to himself for this place. While we all will feel the loss of Dr. Dawes we unite with his many friends here in wishing him all the success there is in his new field, and what is our loss is Juneau's gain and we assure them they have a man upon whom they can thoroughly rely.

As election day comes closer the Juneau Empire is coming out stronger and stronger in their attempt to misrepresent the stand of Delegate Wickersham and in their losing game of trying to elect Mr. Bunnell in his place. In a recent issue of that paper they made the statement that Delegate Wickersham had promised Wrangell that he would get us the proposed Dry Strait Canal, or as the Empire states promised "the dredging of Dry Straits." This is a straight misrepresentation of facts for Delegate Wickersham never made such a promise to Wrangell, but he did promise us that he would work for it and he has done it, and prepared a bill and introduced it in the House of Representatives to appropriate $25,000 for a preliminary survey of the Dry Straits. Delegate Wickersham has worked for this project and is working for it now and when elected to the next term as Delegate from Alaska is going to continue to work for it. This project was the idea of the Wrangell Chamber of Commerce and Delegate Wickersham showed his true interest in Alaska by the quick way in which he took hold and co-operated with the local chamber to help in his desire to improve and better the conditions in Alaska.

Next Tuesday is election day, and already there is that feeling in the air of defeat or victory. One side or the other must meet defeat at the poles next Tuesday, and it is only human nature to want to be on the winning side, and for that reason the many small crowds of voters are gathering in the stores and saloons and on the streets with the one topic of conversation, the election. It is felt in most all political circles that the Non-Partisan Ticket will carry this district by a good majority. M. J. O'Conner the candidate for the Senate and J. R. Heckman, William Britt and A. G. Shoup for representatives were in Wrangell from Thursday morning last week until Friday night and during their stay here met nearly every voter in the section and it goes without saying that the ticket made many valuable supporters during their stay here. Most of the men on the ticket are straight, conscientious men who have made a success of life, men who are governed by no party or ties and will serve the Territory with the utmost in their power for our advancement. You will make no mistake by voting the Non-Partisan Ticket next Tuesday.

The Ketchikan Mail came out last Saturday with a new ticket in the field containing the names of Charles Sulzer, for Senator and Charles Oliver, N. J. Svindseth, F. Wolland and P. H. Ganty for representatives. This ticket comes as a big surprise to everyone and for what reason it is impossible to understand. When Mr. Svindseth was interviewed upon the subject he stated that his name had been placed on the ticket without his knowledge and that under no consideration would he accept and run. He also stated that he had some time ago declined to run and had so wired the Ketchikan party but received no answer and the first he knew of the affair was when he received the paper announcing the ticket. For what reason this ticket was put in the field is not known but it is known that at least three men on the ticket and possibly four did not know that their names were being used and have repeatedly refused to run on any ticket.

The shipping of fresh salmon from Alaska has attained to large proportions this year, some 1,868,000 pounds having come to Seattle since January 1. Usually the business is restricted to the shipping of King salmon during the spring and early summer, but so far this year shipments have been made during every month, and all species of salmon have been included.—Pacific Fisherman.

S. E. Alaska Fishermen's Association HEADQUARTERS

September 23rd, 1914

Dear Sir or Madam:

I am asking the people of Alaska to elect me as a representative in their next Legislature for the following reasons:

1 It is the desire of the majority of the women of Alaska that all women may be granted the privilege, and realize the importance of their assuming their share of every responsibility and every public duty, and have the opportunity of working with men for the advancement and good of our country; for only by mutual discussion, consideration and co-operation can the wisest conclusions be reached in all matters pertaining to the welfare of men, women and children, and the best way to accomplish this is for the men and women of Alaska to elect women as part of their representatives in the Alaska Legislature.

2 That I may more effectively continue the work I have been doing for the past year and a half as Secretary of the Ketchikan Division of the S. E. Alaska Fisherman's Association. My husband, who is Secretary-Treasurer of the whole Association, has been a fisherman and resident of Alaska for many years, and always an earnest leader and worker for the fishermen to obtain their rights. He was also Secretary of their former union, Alaska Local No. 2, United Fishermen of the Pacific. As his subordinate official and that of our Executive Board, and as a member of our Association, whose aim is to advance the interests of all the fishermen of Alaska, and of all business dependent upon the prosperity of the fishermen, my work in the Alaska Legislature (if elected) will be faithful, intelligent and energetic.

3 My influence and votes in the Alaska Legislature (if elected) for the workers of Alaska in all other occupations will be to maintain and defend their rights and to secure them a square deal in every thing.

4 My attitude towards capital is to compel it to grant labor its fair and just share of what it earns and to welcome and support its investment in legitimate enterprises in our country.

Will you favor me with your support?

I announce myself as an independent candidate for the Alaska House of Representatives, on the following platform:

- 1 Complete enfranchisement of women.
- 2 Abolishment of fishtraps in Alaskan waters.
- 3 Legislation obliging a husband to support his wife and children.
- 4 The passage of a law requiring a residence of six months for non-resident fishermen to qualify for the right to fish in Alaskan waters.
- 5 Legislation making S. E. Alaska a separate territory.
- 6 A law forbidding Government employees to engage in other business under penalty of removal, and that all be put on salaries.
- 7 A law providing for the Australian ballot system in Alaska.

Juneau, Oct. 2. A campaign committee, comprising the candidates on the Non-Partisan ticket, are to visit every voting precinct in the First Division before election day, November 3rd. This trip has been arranged from Non-Partisan Campaign Headquarters at Juneau, with a view of familiarizing the candidates of the Non-Partisan ticket with conditions in the First Division, and to allow the candidates to get in touch with the people whom they will represent, if elected to the Legislature.

The following is a biographical sketch of the candidates of the Non-Partisan ticket:

M. J. O'Connor, candidate for the Senate, was borne in Ireland, where he received a commercial education. He was apprenticed as a lad, and, after receiving a thorough training in the drygoods business, he left his native country for one where conditions were more favorable and opportunities more numerous.

Arriving in San Francisco about 27 years ago, he remained for about a year. Hungering for frontier life, he pushed his way northward to Washington Territory, and secured employment with the Carbon Hill Coal Company as manager of their drygoods department, staying with them eleven years. When the news of the great Klondike strike reached the Puget Sound country in '97, he heard the "Call of the North" and, in partnership with D. Vere Utter, he opened up a general store at Dyea, in January 1898. The town lasted about six months, and Mr. O'Connor, buying his partner's interest, removed the stock to Douglas where he has since resided.

During the many years of his residence in Douglas, Mr. O'Connor has been ever at the fore-front in all public enterprises, willing to devote both time and money for the public good—generous to a fault; always ready to do his part. As an evidence that his character is appreciated in his home town we might state that he is now serving his sixth term as mayor of Douglas.

Arthur G. Shoup was born in Challis, Idaho Territory, November 26, 1880, and came to Alaska in July 1897. He was educated in the common schools of Idaho and Alaska, and a graduate of the law class of Washington State University.

Mr. Shoup served as Deputy United States Marshal from 1902 to 1910; was elected member of the House of Representatives of the First Alaska Territorial Legislature; was chairman of the committee on Judiciary and Federal Relations, and prominent on other committees.

Introduced the following bill which were enacted into laws: Woman's Suffrage; Providing Penalty for Inciting Another to Commit a Crime; Establishment of Juvenile Courts; Vital Statistics; Amendment to Code allowing several charges against the same person for the same act or transaction to be combined in one indictment; Provision for the appointment of commissioners from Alaska for the promotion of uniformity of legislation in the United States; Quarantine Law; Law for the compulsory education of the children of Alaska; Provision for the Incorporation of cities of the second class in Alaska; Prohibiting the casting of saw dust in salmon streams in Alaska; White Slavery Law; Establishment of Pioneers' Home; Public Health; Authority and Direction for Territorial Treasurer to apply for and receive moneys in the United States Treasury due the Territory on account of timber sales in Alaska; served without compensation as superintendent of Alaska Pioneers, Home since its organization.

William Britt was born in Norway, graduating from the University of Christiania with high honors, followed by his employment as instructor in political economy, later specializing in chemistry.

Mr. Britt came to the United States in 1893, locating in Chicago, where he followed his occupation as a druggist until 1898, when he joined the Klondike stampede, locating at Skagway in 1899, where he established the druggist business known as Britt's Pharmacy. Shortly afterward he was elected a member of the first Skagway School Board. He later served as City Councilman, School Treasurer and municipal magistrate.

In 1912 Mr. Britt moved to Juneau, where he established the drug business known as Britt's Pharmacy, retaining the Skagway store, which he still owns. Mr. Britt was elected a member of the Juneau City Council last year, and has several important committee assignments. Governor Strong ordered him a member of the first Alaska Board of Pharmacy, following the creation of the Board by the Alaska Legislature, and Mr. Britt was selected by the other members of the Board as Board President.

John G. Heid arrived in Juneau on April 11, 1885, having previously been engaged in mining in Colorado. Mr. Heid opened up a law office shortly after his arrival, and has been in the active practice of law since that date, and is today the oldest member of the Alaska Bar Association in active practice.

He was married in Juneau in July, 1888, having lived at all times since then in the same dwelling house in Juneau, where three daughters were born, educated, and one married.

Mr. Heid has been continually engaged in mining and developing the mineral resources of Alaska for the past thirty years, and is perhaps more familiar with the mining conditions in Southeastern Alaska than any other man, having been identified with many of the mineral locations which have in later years been developed into producing mines.

John R. Heckman was born in Nova Scotia in 1866; he came to California in 1875, where he was educated in the public schools. In 1886 and '87 he went to Cook's Inlet as a gill net fisherman. In 1889 he went to Loring as a machinist helper, continuing in the capacity of an employ or independent fisherman until a few years later, when Mr. Heckman located in business of general merchandising, later opening another store at Ketchikan.

Mr. Heckman is president of the J. R. Heckman company Mercantile Store at Ketchikan, vice-president of the Miners & Merchant's Bank, Ketchikan, General Manager of the Loring Cannery, and principal owner and financial agent for several of the prominent mining companies in the Prince of Wales mining section.

Seward wants to be made the gateway for the winter mail service to Nome, claiming the route is 440 miles shorter than by way of Cordova.

Juneau is improving streets to correspond with the march of progress and the fine buildings erected by Behrends, Goldstein, Zenda and others.

The Seward Tribune has been taken over by the Gateway. T. R. Needham, formerly owner of the Tribune, announces that he will start a paper at Knik.

Not In Harmony With Administration

The alleged democrats in Alaska who are supporting Bunnell are the same chaps who chose a delegation in Valdez two years ago that went down to Baltimore and voted against Bryan for temporary chairman of the convention because Chas. F. Murphy told them to. They also voted 45 time against Woodrow Wilson for Presidential nominee because Chas. F. Murphy told them to. And, yet, notwithstanding this disgraceful action of these very men, they and their cohorts, are now running around here howling that the people of Alaska should vote for Bunnell for delegate to congress for the reason that he will be in harmony with the administration. Bunnell was one of the delegates in the bolters convention held in Valdez, and assisted in the election of the men who went to Baltimore and did every thing in their power to turn the Democratic party over to Chas. F. Murphy and when Bryan introduced his famous resolution to fire Murphy and Ryan out of the convention, Geo. Turner of the State of Washington mounted a chair and howled out, "Kick the ——— out of the convention." And at this remark some of the Alaska delegation clapped their hands in applause.

When Mr. Chas. Bunnell, the fusion candidate for congress, made application for the office of District Attorney for the Third Division there were just two charges against him. One of these was that he was incompetant and the other that he was not a democrat. These two charges were proven so conclusively that President Wilson, notwithstanding the fact that the whole Strong-Jennings-Cheney-Shackelford combination favored him, turned him down cold and appointed a man from the States. No man who supported the traitors who went down to Baltimore in the interest of Chas. F. Murphy has received any political favors from Bryan or Wilson in the Third Division. Keep that in mind, you office seekers.

Bunnell is about the last man in Alaska who could secure any favors from Wilson were he sent to Congress. Why should he?—The Commoner.

Big Masquerade Saturday Night

The big masquerade ball of the Moose Orchestra will come off next Saturday so all you dancers of Wrangell don't forget that good suit that you have been planning for the past year. The Orchestra have a good bunch of prizes for the dancers and some new music so those attending are promised the ime of their life. The dance will start at nine o'clock sharp and masks will be taken off at ten thirty to come early and enjoy the fun.

According to announcements given out by Judge Jennings in Juneau the first of the week the Ketchikan term of the District Court will convene November 30th.

Second Episode Of Great Serial

The Rink will show the second episode of the wonderful serial "Perils of Pauline" at that popular show house tomorrow night and everyone who has the chance should not miss this. As each picture comes the interest in the subject grows more intense so to get the full story you should not miss an nstallment.

In the first episode you saw the mummy speak, you also saw the race track friend whisper something into Owen's ear, what ever it was it had a lasting effect on Owen and made the probability of Harry ever marrying Pauline very remote. The Perils of Pauline grows more and more real every installment, in the second episode Owen sneaks into old Mr. Marvin's study and writes some thing to Pauline to which he signs the dead man's name of course it is a forgery but neither Harry or Pauline will know. To get this great story dont forget to attend the show at the Rink Friday evening.

Notice To Parents

Children have been seen coming in contact with electric light wires, either by throwing ropes across, or reaching with sticks and poles.

Under our new system the main line will be a high and dangerous voltage, therefore instruct your children to leave the wires alone in every way before some accident befalls them.
